

Software Security Solutions launches US Distributorship for Outpost Pro and Outpost Network Security Firewall Products

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LAKEWOOD, CO, July 2006 - Software Security Solutions, a SVAR for Layered Security Solutions, is pleased to announce a partnership with Agnitum Software and the addition of Outpost Firewall Pro and Outpost Network Security Firewall to its product listings. Software Security Solutions has been named a Distributor for the Outpost Firewall products and will be building a reseller channel to support the USA and Canadian markets.

The partnership will focus on promoting the two main Agnitum Firewall products. Outpost Firewall Pro is designed for home users and single installations of a personal firewall. Outpost Network Security Firewall is designed specifically to support businesses by providing centrally deployable and managed personal firewall to the desktops.

Initial product reviews show the Outpost Firewall has advanced past the competition at an accelerated pace in terms of ease of use, levels of protection and flexibility while using less resources than major competitors. Agnitum is a undoubtedly a thought leader in the PC Firewall threat category and as a result, a good fit in the Software Security Solutions model.

About Agnitum:

Agnitum was founded by Mikhail Zakhryapin and Alexei Elagin in St Petersburg, Russia, in February 1999 with the goal of delivering security software for PC users that is effective yet easy to use – not an easy balance to achieve.
